GENERAL ANDREW JACKSON GOODPASTER

Gen. Goodpaster Day here July 3

Quads-Cityans will turn out by the thousands on Saturday, July 3, to view a mammoth U.S. Bicentennial parade and to honor their native son, four-star General Andrew Jackson Goodpaster.

The retired supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces will serve as parade marshal and will greet friends and classmates as well as members of the armed forces.

Now 61, the World War II hero served as director of the Joint Staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, from August 1966 to April 1967, and was third-ranking member of the U.S. delegation for the Paris negotiations with North Vietnam, before taking up duties in Vietnam as deputy commander of the U.S. Military Assistance Command from July 1968 to April 1969.

A past commandant of the National War College, he assumed the posts of commander-in-chief, U.S.

European Command on May 5, 1969, and supreme Allied commander, Europe, on July 1, 1969. He retired from active military service Dec. 17, 1974.

Gen. Goodpaster resides in Alexandria, Va., with his wife, Dorothy. Their daughters, Mrs. Roger (Susan) Sullivan and Mrs. Robert (Anne) Wilson, reside on the East Coast.

Born in Granite City, he graduated from Granite City High School in 1931 and attended McKendree College (Lebanon) and the U.S. Military Academy (West Point, N.Y.).

His sister, Ila, resides in St. Louis and his mother, Mrs. Teresa Mary Goodpaster, lives in Collinsville.

FATAL CRASH SCENE. This 1966 two-door Impala came to rest at 11:30 p.m. Thursday at the intersection of Main and Bremen streets in Venice after skidding 120 feet, hitting a curb, going airborne for 41 feet, skidding another 16 feet and then striking a metal sign pole. One passenger was killed. Another passenger and the driver were injured, one critically.

Fatal crash near bridge

Juan L. Zamarripa, 20, of Overland, Mo., was killed and two youths, both 18, were injured, one critically, in a one-car accident at Main and Bremen streets, Venice, at 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mr. Zamarripa was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 11:40 p.m.

Michael J. Malta, 18, of Overland, Mo., driver of the car, in which Zamarripa was the passenger, was reported in critical but stable condition, and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Sidney R. Taylor, 18, of St. John's, Mo., also a passenger, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after hitting his head on the dash, suffering cuts to the right temple area and abrasions to the chest and both lower legs.

The car was westbound on Broadway at a high rate of speed, according to Venice police who said the driver apparently was unable to negotiate a left turn at Main Street.

Officers said the car skidded 120 feet, ran into a curb, flipped into the air for 41 feet and skidded another 16 feet before striking a metal sign post at Main and Bremen Streets.

Malta was charged with illegal transportation of liquor when police allegedly found 12 cans of beer in and around the car. He also was charged with

9 die in April auto crashes

There were eight fatal accidents in which nine persons died, 148 personal injury accidents and 221 property damage accidents during April in the nine-county area of District 11 of the Illinois State Police, it was announced by Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, commander.

Figures released by Dwight E. Pitman, superintendent of the Illinois State Police, showed 160 persons died of injuries sustained in traffic accidents on Illinois highways during last month.

"Illinois speed law has an absolute maximum limit of 55 miles per hour. At no time does it allow a driver to exceed this limit, including while passing or going down a grade," Captain Bertagnoli said.

"While speed may not cause an accident, slowing down will give you more time to avoid an accident or time to stop before striking another car or person. Speed definitely contributes to the severity of an accident," he added.

On and off the record

Don't confuse me by giving the facts

A completely useless book has appeared in area book stores, and it is being called an "absolute delight." Author Tom Burnham, professor of English at Portland State University in Oregon, has compiled a collection of popularly held beliefs that reflect the vast amount of widely believed but erroneous data.

The Dictionary of Misinformation, the examples run from the silly to the serious. Bizarre pages are not made from the familiar brief plant but from a French book called "broyer" meaning "beat," the popular concept of evolution did not originate with Charles Darwin, nor did he set out to prove man was descended from apes, nor did he express the idea of the "survival of the fittest."

Prof. Burnham's entries—in dictionary form with cross referencing—range from the brief explosion "It is often said that dreams are never in color, but rather always in monochrome. This is simply not so; to learned, one page essays on such topics as Abraham Lincoln and his Gettysburg Address. If you think that the President wrote his speech on the back of an envelope while riding the train to Gettysburg, check Page 93.

The reader is not going to feel completely mindless as he leafs through the dictionary. Some errors in popular concept could only have been detected by

FOURTH OF A SERIES

Opposition to the Madison County Board sanitary sewer installation program so far has centered on two issues—the potential cost and the decision to include three separate areas in the planning.

Both points are affected by a relatively new Illinois law

under which the major improvement project has been developed.

The original area to embark on a sewer program under the new law, Galesburg, did so this spring. The Galesburg bonds attracted a successful low bid of $50 per cent interest rate.

Harry E. Hartman, attorney for the Madison County project, reports.

The local underfunding specifies a ceiling of eight per cent, and the committee coordinating the project has voiced hope that the bidding may bring a percentage well below the maximum.

While the Galesburg project is not identical in every way with the Madison County plans, the interest rate attracted there has bolstered the belief that bond buyers view the new law as sound and such projects as worthwhile.

The new law also is cited by the local planners as a principal reason why three special areas have been scheduled rather than one.

Hearing notices have been mailed to property owners in all three service areas.

General obligation bond issues are planned, along with substantial state and federal environmental grant funds.

While cost concern has been voiced by some of those affected, it is being pointed out that without the state-federal money—which must be utilized town and drive people elsewhere—the brothers and later their successors brought into Granite City other industries and plants.

Their goal was a well diversified municipality. They were acutely aware of disastrous instances in which there had been a lack of diversity—including Western mining towns and New England mill towns.

One of the firms attracted to Granite City in its formative years was the American Steel Company.

In September 1893, James G. McRoberts, superintendent of a steel foundry in East St. Louis, patented the process of casting steel in molds of "green" or undried sand.

Prior to that time, foundrymen had always assumed that steel had to be cast in oven-dried molds.

McRoberts disproved the notion in a simple manner: he poured steel into green molds and found that the castings were just as good as those made in dry molds.

To exploit the discovery, he joined forces with Edward P. Goltz, who was promoting a Richard Miller Jr., 19, of 2029 Washington Ave., was in critical condition in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital during the weekend, having suffered a gunshot wound to his left shoulder at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Police arrested a suspect after Miller made a statement to investigators from his hospital bed.

A third man in the incident is being sought, it was indicated. Authorities were called to the Miller residence and saw Miller driving away to obtain treatment. As Miller was trying to make a left turn into the emergency room entrance, his car struck a concrete post.

The shooting occurred after Miller allegedly had tried to break up a fight between the other two men.

News notes

A new preliminary master plan for the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, being prepared by the dental school dean, is likely to call for transfer of the school from the Altan center to the main campus in the 1980s. Acting President Andrew J. Kochman said last week Dr. Stanley Harn, dean, views the Altan center as too isolated and says relocation would reduce duplication and lead to better coordination of health and science programs.

U.S. Senator Gaylord Nelson (D-Wisconsin) is opposing replacement of Altan Locks and Dam 26 and is seeking a full-scale General Accounting Office study of the proposed project.

The Illinois House Executive Committee voted 8-4 last week to urge that the state lottery board drop "instant lottery" games.

State Police Supt. Dwight E. Primm told the Executive Committee of the Illinois House last week that each trooper is expected each year to arrest 175 for speeding, eight for right-of-way violations, four for following too closely, 22 for lane and passing violations, seven for stop or yield sign offenses and two for improper turns. Also expected annually are 10 criminal arrests, recovery of a stolen vehicle and assistance to motorists.

A state suit against Madison County for $4,800 in inheritance taxes withheld by the county prompted a counter suit filed last week claiming that the state owes $174,700 it withheld from sales taxes since 1970 as a collection and administration fee. County Treasurer George Musko has retained a like proportion—four per cent—of the inheritance taxes to cover record keeping expenses, but there is no law authorizing this.

Average yearly tax payments for sewers will be much lower than the first year's rate, because fewer expenses need to be met after the first year and also because growth of this area will enhance the base from which payments are made, lowering the rate, the committee adds.

Petitions to oppose the sewers table the position that costs may exceed benefits. There has been some petition activity in State Park Place and in the Eagle Park Acres-Cloverleaf-East Madison area.

The largest service area includes large areas outside the Granite City limits and south of the Hartford Canal, including sections of Chouteau, Nankin and Venice townships.

Each service area is regarded as a separate undertaking but it is planned to obtain bond bids and construction bids for all three areas this year.

The plans are to be effective in the area unless a negative petition is signed by at least 51 per cent of the electors residing within the area and at least 51 per cent of the owners of record of the land included with the area's boundaries.

The committee planning the installation says full assurances of 75 per cent funding by the state and federal governments has been assured if the project proceeds now.

Wendell Deborah Freedman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Julie Freedman, 2543 Cleveland Blvd. was a member of the cast of Northwestern University's 45th annual Waa Mu Show. This year's original musical revue, "That's The Spirit," was presented for seven performances, May 3 through May 8, in Cahn Auditorium on the Evanston, Ill. campus, with a matinee on Saturday.

She is a freshman in NU's School of Speech, majoring in theater. She is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South, where she was salutatorian of her class. She has appeared in numerous high school and community plays.

Victoria Ann Kirchoff, daughter of Kiril J. and Margaret Kirchoff, 18 Oaklawn, was a production assistant for "That's The Spirit."

A freshman in NU's College of Arts and Sciences, she is majoring in broadcast journalism. She is recording secretary for Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and is a member of the Waa Mu Show Book Committee.

Waa Mu utilized the efforts of nearly 300 students in the cast, orchestra and staff to produce what the Associated Press has called "the best college show in America." The dialogue sketches and musical numbers for this year's production were written and composed by 22 students and five alumni.

From the opening extravaganza which introduced characters from the pages of history, to the ending number, which voiced hope for a better world for everyone, this year's revue featured 30 scenes over two acts. A circus, commercials, silent film stars and a three-part murder mystery found their way to the stage.

One sketch portrayed a young girl's rise from dancing lessons to the chorus line to the Follies, complete with appropriate costumes, while the design of the number, "I Like January," resembled a Currier and Ives print, including skaters.

Legion district will hear Dixon

Election of officers and delegates to the national convention, amending of bylaws and presentation of annual reports are on the agenda to be considered by delegates to the American Legion's 22nd District convention, to be held at Smithton, Ill., Saturday and Sunday.

Illinois Department Commander Edward Brennan will be the principal speaker at the convention opening at 10 a.m. Sunday.

At a 6 p.m. Saturday dinner,

State Treasurer Alan Dixon will be the guest speaker. Herbert Neff of Smithton, district commander, will preside at both gatherings at the Turner Hall.

The 22nd district comprises Madison, Bond, St. Clair, Monroe and Washington Counties.

Ralph Blumhorst of Okawville, senior vice commander, has been endorsed for the office of commander. William Barks of Granite City, junior vice commander, has been endorsed for the office of senior vice commander.

Inventory of aquatic life, water quality

The SIUE School of Science and Technology is conducting an aquatic inventory report on the Maline Creek watershed for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, according to Jamie E. Thomerson, associate professor of biological sciences. Maline Creek meanders through a heavily populated area of north St. Louis County and includes a small part of the northernmost tip of the city.

Because the creek receives most of its water from storm sewers and parking lot runoff, the area is subject to drastic fluctuating water levels during periods of downpour. The watershed area has been troubled with erosion, flooding and pollution problems for several years.

"The inventory will be sufficiently detailed to accurately reflect the present environmental situation and provide a rational basis for predicting future environmental conditions under any set of feasible water resource developments," Thomerson said.

Biological and water quality data will be compiled through field data collection and presented in a manner recognizing the relationship between inventory elements and permitting their analysis and interpretation.

The report will include a general discussion of water quality problems in the study area. Water samplings will be taken from six locations along the route of the creek, once under conditions of normal flow and again during storm runoff.

Field reconnaissance is being made of the principal aquatic habitats in the study area to describe them quantitatively and qualitatively for recreational and esthetic purposes as well as indicating water quality.

Plant and animal life both in the water and along the banks of the creek will be observed. Shoreline vegetation acting as cover or as a source of shade will be noted, documenting unique areas and communities discovered. The dominant groups of plant and animal life will be discussed, noting their range, relative abundance and importance to the stream ecosystem.

The environmental assessment will provide a learning experience for six SIUE students. Two of the students are undergraduates majoring in sanitation technology and the others are graduate students in the biological sciences.

Thomerson said that the Maline Creek watershed is "a transition area between the Ozark hill country and the Midwestern prairie. There is a tremendous difference between fish found in the two areas."

According to Thomerson, the inventory will provide information in an area of research not previously studied. "There is no published information on fish in St. Louis County streams," he said.

"The Mississippi and Meramec Rivers have already been studied. We know what to expect." Already, the students have noted some difference in the varieties and quantities of fish at different sampling sites along the watershed. As the creek nears the Mississippi River, more variety and more numbers of aquatic life have been discovered.

Miss Bowles to be speaker at Buck Road

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles will be the principal speaker at memorial services at Buck Road Cemetery on Sunday, May 16, at 2 p.m. The cemetery is located in Collinsville Township on Illinois Route 162.

The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. William J. Stanley, St. Cecilia's Church, Glen Carbon. Soloist will be Alan D. Thatcher, Edwardsville.

Members of Harry G. Seaton American Legion Post 435, Glen Carbon, will call the roll of veterans buried in the cemetery.

A memorial service in honor of those veterans will be given at the Pvt. Henry Ostendorf memorial by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300, Granite City.

Officers re-elected by the association are Frank Poneta, president; Mrs. Florence Zajick, vice president; Margaret Schlemmer, secretary; and Joseph Ranek, treasurer.

Directors re-elected are Raymond Kubicek, Mrs. Lillian Ranek and John Bibko.

PLANNING FUND DRIVE to benefit the Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's and Max Baer Heart Funds are members of Eagles Aerie 1126. From left, Bob Stanton, chairman of the Crippled Children's fund; Carl Buehler, state chairman of the fund; Mrs. Ruth Paubel, chairman of the Heart Fund, and Mayor Paul Schuler who proclaimed Thursday, Friday and Saturday, as collection day.

Strikes thief, recovers radio

As Wilbert Puhse, 2618 Jordan Ave., was leaving Central Hardware store at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, he saw two youths "freaking" around his car and one start to run away with Puhse's citizen's band radio. Puhse struck one youth, who dropped the equipment, then both boys ran toward Pontoon Road. The would-be thieves had entered the locked vehicle and cut wires to obtain the CB radio. Puhse, who recovered his property, said both youths were about 16 years old with long blond hair and wearing blue jeans. One boy was about five feet, two inches tall and the other was two inches shorter.

Eagles and auxiliary plan fund campaign

Eagles Aerie 1126 and auxiliary will combine their efforts for a three-day campaign for funds Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Granite City shopping centers, banks and in the downtown area, to benefit the Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's Fund and Max Baer Heart Fund, the president, Melvin Baker, announced today.

Heading the Crippled Children's fund will be Bob Stanton, president-elect, Mrs. Ruth Paubel, the auxiliary president-elect, will be in charge of the Heart Fund division. All proceeds will be forwarded to the two organizations.

The president reported the next event to take place at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave., will be joint installation ceremonies for newly-elected officers of the Eagles and auxiliary at 3 p.m. on Saturday, May 22.

Co-chairmen of the event will be William Henken and Mrs. Billie Schuler. Following the ceremony, a buffet lunch and dance is scheduled for members and their guests.

Both the men's and women's groups are active in community and civic projects which include the delivery of hot meals in the Mobile Meals program every week under the leadership of Art Johannmeier, who coordinates the volunteers.

Other services the Eagles Aerie have provided are a $1,000 donation to the Granite City Special Education program to purchase extra supplies, a project they have supported for three years, and a contribution to the state fund for kidney machines which are available to area residents if needed.

The Eagles also sponsor a Youth Guidance program for 125 boys and have sponsored Boy Scout Troop 15 for 25 years, with a membership of 30 boys. Each year the members provide food baskets for senior citizens at Thanksgiving and Christmas time and serve dinner at the Eagles Home on both Mothers' and Fathers Days.

company to manufacture a new kind of steel bolster.

At that time, the country was in the midst of a depression which halted the flow of investment capital. But through George W. Niedringhaus, a personal friend of Goltra, he succeeded, and organized the American Steel Company, which was incorporated on April 5, 1894.

Production began in 1895 in a large plant which had been Machinery Hall at the World's Fair Columbian Exhibition (Chicago, 1893).

The equipment included several electric generators and two overhead cranes which had been among the exhibits.

Granite City did not go through the preliminary organization of a village, but was born a city.

It was incorporated on March 9, 1896, and its charter was issued by the secretary of state the same year. Its population was 992.

Granite Cityans celebrated their 80th anniversary in 1974. Tremendous economic development took place within the first ten years.

The site where only a decade before stood harvest machines came to represent to the inhabitants a modern city holding many tempting opportunities for the wide-awake and far-sighted businessman.

Where a decade before was heard only the rustling of the wind through the corn blades, soon resounded the clangor of the modern machinery of the "sons of Vulcan."

Granite City was carefully planned by its original founders.

Although begun in a paternalistic way, it managed to avoid some of the worst mistakes of paternalism.

It had neither spectacular "welfare" benefits nor arbitrary regulation of everyday life in accordance with the whim of an autocrat priding himself on "his men" and on what he did for them.

Instead, there developed a democratic spirit in the sharing of industrial power and employer-employee relations.

Also, while the town was laid out by industry for industry, it was the people who developed it civically.

As rapidly and as completely as possible, the city beyond the plants passed into the ownership, possession and governance of the people. And the public utilities, public buildings and dwellings were eventually acquired by other owners.

In 1900, Granite City had 3,122 inhabitants. It was a thriving city where the mills operated 24 hours a day.

A latecomer among cities, Granite City abounded with opportunities and was developing beyond the hopes of its founders.

In early June 1903, the Mississippi River rose suddenly and pounded against embankments protecting the area.

Pumps at the levee west of Granite City worked 24 hours a day to keep down the water, but finally broke. Nevertheless, the central part of the city escaped with little more than wet floor boards, while nearby cities were seriously flooded.

This misfortune caused few to grow pessimistic about the future of the city. Weak levees, rather than geographical factors, were blamed for the disaster.

There was no sharp decline in population, and no exodus of industry. If anything, the flood demonstrated that the city was comparatively secure.

Many mill employees, mostly of English and Welsh descent, were encouraged by the town's prosperity, the protection afforded by the levee, and the conveniences which would result from the contemplated McKinley Bridge—established homes in Granite City.

During the early 1890s, most of the company houses were sold to working people at their original cost plus six per cent annual interest.

These transactions plus the sale of lots were handled by the Granite City Realty Company, whose 2,000 shares of stock were divided as follows: Frederick G. Niedringhaus, 990; his son, Thomas, 10; William F. 990; his son, George W., 10.

The influx of population increased the land values, so that an acre, which was worth between $150 to $500 before the town was built offered a tremendous profit when sold.

An acre could be divided into about five lots, and lots in the best residential section sold for $800. Those in the poorer section were $300 and up.

As more workers migrated to Granite City, an acute housing shortage developed.

In 1909, the population was enlarged by an influx of more Welsh workmen from Elwood, Ind., where the Leeds-Reid Rolling Mill had declared a lockout.

These newcomers went into business or found jobs in the steel mills.

According to the United States Census of 1910, there were 9,903 inhabitants in Granite City. However, this number overlooked two wards which contained about 1,150 residents.

The 1914 Census of Manufacturers disclosed that Granite City had 39 industrial plants and 5,658 persons in manufacturing. The latter number comprised 48 employers and firm members, 560 salaried employees, and 5,050 wage earners.

Salaried employees received $872,000 annually and wage earners, $3,994,000.

The yearly value of manufactured products was estimated to be $17,903,000.

John Walker dies at 74

John W. Walker, 74, of 123 Briardiff Drive, father of a Granite City man died at 10:05 p.m. Thursday at Staunton Community Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient since Monday.

Born in Kings Mountain, N.C., Mr. Walker resided in Hickory, N.C. until two weeks ago when he moved to this area.

He was a member of a Lutheran Church in Hickory. Mr. Walker was a retired foreman of the Shuford Manufacturing Co., in Hudson, N.C., where he worked for 30 years.

His wife, Mrs. Lora Mae Walker, died April 18, 1976.

Survivors include three sons, Stacy Walker of Granite City, Rhett Walker, Hickory, N.C., Michael Walker, Sumter, S.C.; two daughters, Mrs. Delores LaFaire, Hickory, and Mrs. Corlette Bean, Asheville, N.C.; two brothers, Stoney Walker, Concord, N.C., and Robert Walker, Kings Mountain; a sister, Mrs. Ida Ross, Kings Mountain; 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You By Milton Mathews

Here's a baseball oddity... You'd think having a 400 hitter would help a team, but did you know that no major league team ever won a pennant when one of their players hit over 400... Since 1900, there have been 13 times when a big league player hit over 400, and on each of those 13 occasions, the team with 400 failed to finish first... Any manager would welcome a 400 hitter, yet so far, all of them have been jinxes as far as winning a pennant is concerned.

Here's an amazing fact about baseball great Stan Musial I bet you didn't know... In all his years in big league baseball, Musial was NEVER thrown out of a game for arguing with umpires... That record is remarkable when you consider that Stan played in 3,026 different games over a period of 22 years!

Alan Sheppard hit a golf ball for a long distance on the moon — but what's the farthest any man has ever hit a golf ball on earth... Most golf experts believe the record is held by golfer pro George Bayer... Bayer is reported to have once driven a ball 500 yards.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
We have really been amused at what has been going on in the super market industry. It is common knowledge that most super markets are selling their Maxwell House Coffee; their C&H Sugar; their soap powders, cereals, flour, cake mixes, shortenings, etc., etc., for exactly the same price. Yet issue after issue of the paper tells us about this or that store has the "Low" prices.

We think it is time to quit fooling around and call them like we see them. The truth of the matter is that super market prices differences are going to occur in the so called perishable departments; produce, meat and dairy. It just so happens that these are the departments that Schermers' really excel. And this is no NEW program. In addition, just in case our merchandisers might occasionally overlook something, we offer Top Value Stamps; with double days and extra stamps every week. If all you do is just break out even at Schermers', your big edge is stamps. Remember only at Schermers' can you get the extra savings of Top Value Stamps.

Trailblazers' Pack 4 program

"Trailblazers" was the theme of Cub Pack 4's May meeting held at Logan School last week. Den 2 led the pledge to the flag and Cuba de Den 4 presented a skit using their own hand puppets made at the den meetings. Mrs. Judy Miller narrated the playlet.

Cubmaster Gary Miller announced the success of the Lincoln Pilgrimage trip to Springfield and displayed ribbons awarded to Pack 4 by the council for pack participation.

Darren Tinsley and Anthony Brown received Bobcat patches and a Bobcat welcome was given to both boys and John Kitzman.

Other awards presented by Miller were: David Wilmoth, Bear patch and Steven Sherfey, Wolf patch. Webelos Leader Roland Douglas gave awards to Webelos Clay Douglas, craftman; Rick Frier, outdoorsman; Billy Johns, outdoorsman; craftman; athlete and aquanaut; Eddy Kitzman, recycler patch; and Darren Miller, craftman, artist, citizen and athlete. Darren Miller led the Webelos in repeating the Cub Scout Promise as the closing ceremony. Refreshments were served to conclude the meeting.

'Y' offers scuba course

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer a course in Scuba beginning Wednesday. Scuba diving (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) has become a popular and fast-growing sport, particularly in this area, according to Michael Tharp, program director.

The "Y" will offer the class to individuals 18 to 60. No equipment is necessary. Individuals wishing to take the course need not be "expert" swimmers but they do need to be comfortable in the water, Tharp said.

The course will run for eight weeks, meeting once a week for four hours; a total of 32 hours of formal instruction. Meeting times will be Wednesdays from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

At the end of the class there will be an open water class where all participants will be checked out in their new environment. Transportation to the dive site is not included. The course will cover topics such as: physics of diving, physiology of diving, equipment, decompression tables, and water skills. Each meeting will be divided into two-hour sections, one being held in a classroom, the other in the pool.

Class fees are $55 for "Y" members and $60 for non-members. For more information, Quad-Cityans may call 876-7200 or stop by the "Y" at 2001 Edison Ave. The Y is a United Way Agency.

Meet Tuesday on annexation

Residents of the Benjamin Addition just outside the northwest limits of Granite City are to meet with city officials at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to discuss potential annexation to Granite City. Invitations have been sent to more than 75 property owners to attend the session.

City officials will explain the cost in tax dollars to the residents and the services, particularly fire protection, which would be offered by the city. A move by city residents of the area to annex to the city was begun after a fire in October last year destroyed one home, damaged two others and threatened the life of a child. The area now is in Venice Township.

Accreditation at South extended

Principal James Dumont of Granite City High School announced Friday that the school's accreditation has been extended through the 1978-79 school year following the review and approval of its annual report at the North Central Association's annual meeting.

Accreditation is for one year at a time and must be renewed annually.

"Once every seven years each NCA school must undergo a comprehensive self-study followed by an NCA evaluation team review," Dumont explained. "This school was last evaluated in 1971. In the interim years, a school is accredited on the basis of its report on conditions existing in the school and on such supplementary information as the Commission on Secondary Schools requests."

"Our reports for 1975-76 assure us of ongoing NCA membership and that the conditions for effective education exist in the school."

Consumer rights conference here

State and federal representatives from Chicago, Alton, Granite City, East St. Louis and Edwardsville will address a Madison County consumer conference on "consumer rights" May 19 at the Veterans Community Center, 404 Broadway.

Sponsored by the Consumer Information Project of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the conference will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

According to Mrs. Rowena Lutz, director of the project, "Everyone is a consumer, so everyone is welcome."

Speakers will include Marguerite Robinson of Chicago, Food and Drug Administration; Don Clark, Alton, Equitable Insurance Co.; Mrs. Jo Meyer, Granite City.

Refreshments, balloons for the kids, music from the National Music School and a prize are planned.

Nurses will be present to take blood pressure. The Diabetes Association will do testing and evaluations. There will be hearing and sight screening.

NAMED SALES DIRECTOR
Mrs. Diane Palermo, Rural Route 2, Calumet, a former Granite Cityan, has earned appointment as sales director in the independent field marketing organization of Mary Kay Cosmetics, it was announced by Mary Kay Ash, chairman of the board of the Dallas-based firm. Mrs. Palermo, who became a beauty consultant Oct. 14, 1974, joins a group of 425 directors who coordinate and aid the efforts of 30,000 independent consultants.

The North Central Association is the largest of the country's regional accrediting agencies. It is a voluntary league of over 4,000 secondary schools, over 750 colleges and universities and 118 elementary schools in a 19-state region. Elementary schools were accepted into NCA membership for the first time last year. The association works with individual schools to improve the quality of education through a continuous process of evaluation and accreditation. Dr. John S. Kemp, NCA state chairman at the University of Illinois, congratulated Granite City High South on its continued accreditation for 1975-76. He added, "The school has been a member of the North Central Association since 1907-1908 and in all those years it has been fully accredited. This should be a matter of great satisfaction to the students and the parents of the school, since accreditation gives assurance that the school meets those minimal yet rigorous preconditions for effective education established by the association."

Through this voluntary membership in the NCA, the district have committed themselves to the pursuit of quality in education. Quality education, an ideal in the past, is an imperative today. North Central Association accreditation and evaluation offer both a framework and an effective tool to help schools clarify their goals, recognize their strengths and limitations, and implement processes and programs to help meet the needs of today's students, Dr. Kemp said.

Accreditation by the North Central Association assures that the school is meeting the minimal conditions for effectiveness. By setting standards for basic operations of school and by requiring a comprehensive self-study once every seven years, the NCA stimulates the school towards continuous improvement.

This is accountability in action, for a school evaluation involves students, faculty, and parents. The external team is composed of teachers, administrators, university personnel and state Department of Education representatives. The year the school spends on an evaluation enables every teacher to participate in the development of a comprehensive plan for school improvement, he added.

Decentralization is the hallmark of American education. It has resulted in vigorous schools and great flexibility. Still there is a need for some thread of consistency and a common commitment to quality to integrate the rich educational diversity in the nation. By providing optional, voluntary, self-policed standards, regional accreditation achieves a large degree of quality control yet does not forfeit that unique and invaluable feature — local governance of the schools, Dr. Kemp noted.

Stenitzer wins poetry contest

Results of the spring 1976 poetry contest have been announced by the Quincy College English Club. The poetry contest was open to all college students, and colleges in a tri-state area were invited to participate. Prizes for this year's contest totalled $106, including a $50 first prize, a $25 second prize and three $10 third prizes.

First prize was awarded to George Stenitzer of Madison for his poem, "You Are Someone I Would Expect to Find."

Stenitzer also received second and one third prize for his poems, "Grandpa Remembers" and "Grandma's Turned White." He is a junior at Quincy College, located in Quincy, Ill.

Two third prizes were awarded to Charles Collinson of Bloomington. His winning poems were " Sylvia Plath," and "Egg Shells and Plaster." Many poems which did not place in the contest are included in this year's literary magazine, called "Riverbend."

Robert Mejer, associate professor of art at Quincy College, contributed some of his works to the magazine. Contributing ink drawings and woodcuts were Quincy College students Terrence Riddell and Claudia Milligan.

The English Club also announced plans for a regular semi-annual literary magazine called "Riverbend."

Stenitzer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stenitzer, 1009 Grand Ave., Madison.

Bicentennial grants; medal, stamp offered

Cong. Melvin Price has announced that Bicentennial programs in Edwardsville and Lebanon have received funding through a special matching grant program of the Illinois Bicentennial Commission.

Lebanon's Bicentennial Commission will be awarded $500 to assist in funding special musical performances by the Cahokia Mounds Indian Dancers, the Dunham African Dance and Drama Group and the Belleville Philharmonic Orchestra. A similar amount has been given to the Edwardsville commission to sponsor a concert by several music groups.

Cong. Price also advised that the official 1976 Bicentennial Medal and Stamp Commemorative will be issued July 4, and will be available to the public.

The bronze medal will honor Thomas Jefferson and the Declaration of Independence, while the stamp shows John Turnbull's painting, "The Declaration of Independence," which currently hangs in the Illinois of the U.S. Capitol.

Order forms for the medal and stamp, issued by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, may be obtained from Rep. Price's Washington office at 2488 Rayburn Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Rhoads again heads Madison firefighters

Eldon Rhoads was elected to his sixth term as chief of the Madison Fire department at the annual firemen's business meeting.

Rhoads, who is maintenance superintendent for the Madison School District, has been a Madison fireman for the past 24 years.

Re-elected officers of the firemen's association were: Louis Gravelle, president; Otis Hollenbeck, vice-president; Robbie Robbins, secretary; and James Shipchoff, treasurer.

Tribute to 'Cannonball'

For jazz enthusiasts only, a program, "The Best of Cannonball Adderley," will be presented by the Black Student Association at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The concert will be performed by the Afro-American Quintet (formerly Ken Gooch), which will play from a repertoire of tunes made into legacies by the late Julian Adderley. Sketches of "Cannonball's" music life will be narrated by artist Robert Norfolk and host writer Winfred Scruggs. Hill, with musical arrangements by David Hines.

It will be the first tribute in this area to Adderley since his death, according to Penny Saffold, assistant director of student activities at SIUE. After the concert, there will be a dance, with music by "Caution."

Eighth grade recognition

The Madison School Board in a special meeting Thursday evening discussed holding some type of recognition ceremony for students finishing the eighth grade.

Two parents, Mrs. Judy Donaldson and Jim Riskovsky, will work with the school administrators in developing a plan of recognition to be presented to the board for approval.

In other action the board reinstated a Madison High School student on probation.

Man with shotgun fires at woman

Mrs. Mae Pirtle, 2121 Benton, reported to police that at 9:45 p.m. Saturday she was at the front door when she saw two men walking north on Benton Street from 21st Street.

She said both were carrying shotguns. When the two were in front of 2121 Benton St., one turned in her direction and fired.

Mrs. Pirtle was hit in the leg and a dog on the porch at 2119 Benton also was hit. The two men left in a two-color station wagon.

Mrs. Pirtle declined to go to the hospital as she said she was not hurt.

Former Governor Otto Kerner dies

Otto J. Kerner, 67, governor of Illinois from 1961 to 1969, died of lung cancer at 4:35 a.m. Sunday at the Illinois Masonic Medical Center, Chicago.

Chairman in 1967 of the President's Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, he was convicted in February 1973 — the first sitting judge of a U.S. Court of Appeals to be indicted and convicted of a criminal charge.

The income tax evasion, conspiracy and mail fraud case alleged that he profited through the setting of favorable horse race track dates. Sentenced to three years in federal prison, he was paroled because of his health in March 1975.

He resigned as governor before completing his second four-year term in order to accept appointment to the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals bench.

His wife, the former Helena Cernak, died in 1973. He is survived by his son, Anton, his daughter, Helena, a sister, Mrs. Mary Carter, and his mother, Mrs. Rose Kerner of River Forest, Ill.

Gov. Kerner's late wife was the daughter of Chicago Mayor Anton Cernak, who was assassinated while seated next to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Anton Kerner on Sunday cited Gov. Kerner's court testimony after his conviction: "My conscience and my record of loyal and dedicated service were never tarnished, nor my integrity bought. In the end, this will bring me peace."

Gov. Kerner was born in Chicago and attended public school in Chicago and Oak Park High School. He graduated from Brown University in 1930, receiving a bachelor of arts degree.

From 1930 to 1931 he studied at Trinity College, Cambridge, University, England. Subsequently, he attended Northwestern University Law School and was graduated as a juris doctor in 1934. He was admitted to the bar in 1934 and entered the private practice of law.

In 1947, he was appointed United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois. He served in that office until nominated in 1954 as candidate for county judge of Cook County. He was elected and then re-elected in 1958.

Nominated for governor in 1960, he was elected to a four-year term and subsequently re-elected in 1964, only the second Democratic governor in the last 100 years to receive this honor. During his administration, Illinois developed a mental health program considered the best in the nation; secured a new criminal code and reorganized the state court system; enacted the first fair employment legislation in the state's history; instituted revenue reforms; sponsored the first overseas trade mission on the part of state government; reduced public aid rolls, and saw more citizens go to work at higher wages than ever before.

Burglary charge

Tommye Carlott Stone, 22, of 2825 Denver St., presently in the U.S. Army, allegedly was found at 5 a.m. Sunday in a restroom at the Pontoon Central Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111.

Pontoon Beach police said they received a call that a burglary was in progress and, arriving on the scene, observed a front window broken out and blood in the area.

Stone was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for a cut to the right index finger and back of the right hand.

A complaint has been signed charging Stone with burglary.

Non-party hiring plan by Scott

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott last week became the first state official to announce that his office will pursue a non-partisan hiring policy.

Scott said the attorney general's office will give public notice of openings on its staff and hire solely on the basis of merit without regard to the political affiliations of job applicants.

Scott's announcement was made in a joint press conference with Chicago lawyer Michael Shkaman, who praised Scott's announcement as "a guide for all other public officials to follow to remove politics from public employment."

The jointly-signed agreement between Scott and Shkaman was filed in Federal District Court May 5. It represented the second phase of a Shkaman campaign against patronage in public office.

Earlier, in a 1972 consent decree, Shkaman won agreement from all major Illinois officials of both parties to eliminate firings of employees for refusing to do political work. Scott was among the first to sign the 1972 agreement.

Shkaman, former chairman of the Independent Voters of Illinois, had filed a class action suit against officials of both parties alleging that the interests of non-partisan candidates and their supporters was adversely affected by partisan patronage policies.

Scott praised the Shkaman agreement, pointing out that, as attorney general, he has found that a policy of merit selection of employees is "the most efficient and productive way to run a public office."

Liquor, cash taken in tavern burglary

A quantity of liquor, cash and a two-wheel dolly were taken from Bob's Tavern, 21st and Adams streets, in a burglary reported Thursday. The burglars cut the screen in a rear door and broke a glass pane to enter the building.

A total of $67 in currency and rolled coins was removed from the register, and a liquor cabinet was pried open and taken were five half-pints and a one-fifth bottle of whiskey, valued at $22, and 10 half-pints and five fifths of vodka, valued at $45.

Also stolen were candy and sausages and the two-wheel dolly. An inventory has yet to be completed, the owner said.

ENERGY MANAGEMENTThe energy-tight home

Good energy management in the home begins with adequate insulation in the ceiling, walls and over unheated areas.

Here are other ways you can make improvements in the way your home uses energy.

Weatherstripping and caulking around doors and windows stops drafts and cuts heat loss.

Insulating heating and cooling ducts makes sure that the warm or cool air you've paid for is not dissipated through the ductwork before it gets where it's needed.

Basement insulation is too often overlooked. All exposed basement walls should be properly insulated. And don't overlook basement storm windows.

Storm doors and windows can make a big difference in your energy management program. Double-glazed windows are a sound idea. Be sure to weatherstrip around storm sash.

Attic ventilation provides air flow to prevent condensation in the attic during the winter. In summer, attic vents release warm air and keep living areas cooler. An attic exhaust fan will measurably increase summer comfort.

Your Illinois Power Company Energy Use Supervisor has full information on insulation and the other steps needed for your home energy management program. See your building supply dealer or hardware store for the materials you'll need for an energy-tight home.

Comment and analysis

May 10, 1976

State tax speed-up would help officials look good but leave it more difficult to make ends meet in 1976-77

The Illinois House Revenue Committee voted 14-7 Thursday to approve a $95 million tax collection speed-up plan, and the conventional wisdom seems to be that such action is appropriate. After all, the state is pinched for money. So why not act to move more revenue more quickly toward Springfield?

James Thompson, Republican governor nominee, has carefully avoided taking a stand for or against the specific legislation at this time. But reading between the lines, it seems clear that he takes a dim view of it. As he noted at the spring Illinois Press Association meeting's May 1 session here, it would be a one-time-only action that adds a $95 million burden onto the following fiscal year's income outgo balance.

In requiring large firms to turn over state sales and income withholding taxes more quickly than they do now, the state government would establish in Illinois the most stringent tax payment system in the nation—and at the precise time when other state laws, policies and attitudes have begun to darkly cloud the ability of employers to operate profitably.

What the bill would accomplish is to assure the outgoing governor of an opportunity to complete his four-year term without raising taxes and without leaving the state poorer in "red ink."

The governor no doubt would make much of this point in the future, just as he sought to do in the spring 1976 campaign, even though it ignores two other facts: 1.

The state has been brought so close to the financial brink that "black ink" is only technical, and a slow-pay policy has been adopted by state administrators appointed by the governor. 2. Taking advantage of the new state income tax that Gov. Walker succeeded in blaming former Gov. Ogilvie for the present administration has spent tax money like it was going out of style, exhausting the vast new source of income and also an immense reserve treasury during the last three years.

Rather than a temporary monetary "bail-out" to enhance the governor's and some lawmakers' image, and rather than looking for politically safe ways to increase overall state tax revenue, General Assembly members might be wiser to immediately begin weeding out the governmental "fat" that Thompson and Democratic nominee Michael Howlett insist has developed.

While cost-cutting is an easy generalization that is difficult to carry out, we have the strong impression that there are numerous individuals with unusually high salaries occupying positions of limited workload and necessity. Since bloated payrolls are a fact of life in this money-pinched year in Illinois government, legislators ought to be willing to take appropriate corrective action affecting administration that both they and the voters have rejected. In this way, the state's many valid obligations could be met.

Adding this county won't lighten E. St. Louis court load

A judicial study group formed at the request of U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy concluded Friday that a fourth federal court district should be created but that Madison County should be lumped together with St. Clair County in one of the districts. Initial reaction here is that the Committee to Study Federal Judicial Districts is probably ought to go back to the drawing board and try again.

The reason given for expanding from three to four districts is that the district now encompassing St. Clair County and Southern Illinois "impedes the administration of justice" and that an added district could speed up the handling of cases and reduce inconvenience. While this may be true, adding populous Madison County would appear to be counterproductive.

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District is a leading example of the fact that governmental tinkering of Madison and St. Clair Counties too often led to abuses and mismanagement in the past.

Many also recall that before Madison

County was separated from the Illinois judicial circuit encompassing St. Clair, the area suffered badly, with long delays and sometimes arbitrary decisions. The two counties are big and different and seem to function best when not thrown together, politically or administratively.

Another significant factor is that while the study group suggests Belleville as a federal courthouse site, this is only a possibility. East St. Louis already is the site of federal courtrooms, marshals and attorneys and is scheduled as the location of the unusually high crime in that vicinity adds to the unattractiveness of the committee's proposed judicial boundary revision.

Perhaps the federal line drawn in 1905 needs to be changed to reduce travel time within various districts, particularly the large Eastern District. But merging Madison and St. Clair Counties would be a mighty peculiar way of reducing the East St. Louis court load, no matter how many sparsely-settled counties are deleted.

'208' governing agency may be formed in this area to foster water quality

(Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission)

On Oct. 18, 1972, the "Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments" were enacted. The purpose of these amendments is to attain by July 1, 1983, an interim water quality goal that provides protection to fish and wildlife and, by 1985, eliminate the discharge of pollutants into our nation's waters.

These amendments also provide "that arewide waste treatment management processes be developed and implemented to assure adequate control of sources of pollutants in each state."

To do this, Section 208 calls upon the governor of each state to designate areas within his state which have substantial water quality problems, to delineate the boundaries of each area, and to designate an organization capable of developing effective water treatment management plans for that area.

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission has been designated as the planning agency for the 208 regional comprised of Madison, St. Clair, and Monroe Counties.

It is currently engaged in a two-year study of the region and the preparation of a plan dealing with water quality and waste treatment problems within it.

To achieve this objective, SIMAPC has begun a comprehensive technical investigation into the various sources of pollution within the region and the formulation of workable alternatives to alleviate these problems. However, in some instances this is not easy.

For while large amounts of pollutants are "point source" in origin, meaning that a definite source can be identified (pipes, ditches, animal feed operations, etc.), often pollution comes from a generalized discharge of waste for which there is no specific source.

Such "nonpoint source" pollution is a major reason for the 208 planning process.

Along with this, it is equally important to develop a management plan to ensure that the technical solutions, once developed, are acceptable institutionally and can be fully implemented.

Management planning will investigate and make recommendations concerning the actual day-to-day operation of the facilities as well as for total plan financing.

Land use and other regulatory controls will also be investigated. In addition to this, in order for the plan to be viable it must be examined in the light of its effect upon and how it is affected by other sections of the Act.

This is important to the production of uniform planning that will allow the 1983 and 1985 deadlines to be met.

To aid in the meeting of these deadlines and the success of arewide waste treatment management planning, SIMAPC is working on an intensive program calling for active participation from elected officials, private interest groups and members of the public.

It has established and is in the process of establishing committees made up of such people in order to insure that the 208 plan reflects local problems and needs.

For this reason, it is felt that these committees will provide needed assistance in properly addressing the problems.

The committees are:

1. Environmental Policy Committee. This major policy committee, which is made up of "elected public officers," represents individuals who have the responsibility for implementation of "point" and "non-point" water pollution control strategies.

2. Environmental Agency Advisory Committee. This committee is composed of those local, regional, state and federal governmental agency leaders who are necessary by the direct role these groups play in water quality management and overall regional development within the 208 designated counties.

3. Management-Institutional-Fiscal Committee. This committee, composed of city managers and administrators, is anticipated to be a focal point for technical input into the management, institutional, fiscal and administrative aspects of the 208 plan development.

4. Technical Committees. There are three main technical committees which have been or will be established. These are:

a) Point Source Committee—This committee will be composed of technicians most familiar with the many types of point source pollution problems.

It is envisioned that two major subcommittees will be developed from the membership of the point source committee to deal with Industrial Point Source and Municipal Point Source Stormwater problems within the study area.

b) Non-Point Source Committee. The non-point source technical committee is comprised of qualified technicians from a variety of backgrounds to assist the SIMAPC staff in analysis of non-point source problems and strategies.

The main committee will be broken down into subcommittees as necessary, depending on the specific issue and expertise available.

c) Management-Institutional-Fiscal Committee. This committee, composed of city managers and administrators, is anticipated to be a focal point for technical input into the management, institutional, fiscal and administrative aspects of the 208 plan development.

d) Interaction among those technical committees will be stressed as the plan is being developed.

Also subcommittees will be formed as necessary to address problems in specific areas.

5. 208 Interstate Coordinating Committee. The role of this committee is to address the necessary interstate coordination issues that may arise between Illinois and Missouri 208 activities.

Since it is important that both formal participants in the 208 planning process and the general public be informed, a series of working papers and interim report will be released. Every effort will be made to ensure that these papers can be readily understood in order to help the public formulate specific questions for review and recommendation.

Brochures will be written explaining various aspects of the 208 process, and there will be newsletters relating program status, problems, critical issues, and other relevant information.

For the next two years, SIMAPC will be deeply involved with the 208 process—investigating various sources of pollution, preparing alternative solutions, examining the effect of such things as land use planning, coordinating efforts with adjoining areas, and keeping the public informed.

All of this will culminate in an arewide waste management plan that will effectively meet the 1983 water quality goals and have the greatest probability of being fully implemented.

Pack 8 plans summer activities

Presentation of awards and plans for coming events were among the activities taking place at the May meeting of Cub Pack 8 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Cubmaster Orville Martin was in charge. The posting of the colors was by the Webelos Den, followed by the pledge of Cub Scouts.

Den 2, led by Pat Foote, gave a reading, entitled "Cub Scouts." Den 3 performed a skit using "trailblazers" theme, directed by Den Leader Sharon Sunde. Newly formed Den 1 with Mrs. Mary Ann Ramsey, leader, in charge narrated a story about famous trailblazers.

In the awards ceremony Martin presented Cub Heritage Trail and Lincoln Pilgrimage patches to Jimmie Ellis, Ricky Sutton, Chris Landreth, Kevin Thompson, John Moore, Stacey Gassett, Patrick Hursey, Tim Moran, Patrick Ramsey, Scott Foote, Kelly Lewis and Christopher Sunde.

Bi-Centennial patches for doing a good deed were presented to Tim Cox, Jimmie Ellis, Michael Grizzard, Mank Mathis, Ricky Sutton, Harold Pulley, Kevin Thompson, David Andrews, Eric Gunderson, Kelly Lewis, Timothy Pabst, Alan Pope, Christopher Sunde, Daniel Hull, Leonard Bassoo, Scott Foote, David Gibson, Richard Grizzard, Timothy Mathis, Ricky Williams, James Livingston and Paul Craig.

Committee Chairman Richard Foote presented one-year service stars and one-year perfect attendance pins to James Ellis and Richard Sutton. Michael Grizzard received a one-year service star; Mank Mathis, a silver arrow under the Wolf rank; Tim Pabst assistant denner cords.

Scott Foote received the artist and geologist activity badges. Darlene Livingston led the group in songs and Scott Foote presented a skit, "The Rhinestone Cowboy," for his showman activity badge.

Mrs. Foote announced the pack is closing family enrollment and that Cub Day Camp will be July 12-15. Registrations must be in by May 15 as reservations are on a first come, first serve basis. It was announced that donations still being taken for the flagpole to be erected at the Council Service Center.

Martin reported the father-son Webelos camporee will be held May 21-22 at the Granite City Army Installation. At this time boys, who are eligible, will be graduated into a Boy Scout troop. Reservations are being taken for boys who are going to the Webelos camp in June Camp Sumner. A $5 deposit is required.

Next month's pack meeting will be a bike rodeo held on the church parking lot, beginning at 6 p.m. The all-around winner will receive a bike pack, and ribbons will be awarded to the first through third place finishers in each age group. The Cub Scouts will march in the Day Parade of Flags and the July 3 Bicentennial parade, it was announced.

Refreshments were served by the Webelos mothers.

PATRIOT YEARS Reasons cited for independence

From the Pennsylvania Evening Post, Philadelphia, spring of 1776, 200 years ago:

For the PENNSYLVANIA EVENING POST.

Reasons for the DECLARATION OF THE INDEPENDENCE of the American Colonies.

1. The colonies will be delivered from two governments directly opposed to each other.

2. The colonies will be delivered from the disorders which arise from the unlimited, undescribable and sometimes arbitrary powers of Conventions, Committees of Safety, and Committees of Inspection.

THE WATER'S FINE. Russ Loebe of New Lenox, Ill., checks the water in a Parshall flume installation that will be on display at the sanitation technology students' "open house" on Friday from 1 to 6 p.m. in Room 0218 of the SIUE Science Building. The open house, sponsored by the Sanitation Technology Association at SIUE, will include many exhibits dealing with water and wastewater technology. Loebe explained that the Parshall flume is used for measuring such things as municipal and stream flow to calculate how much waste is going into a stream.

Shrine parade to mark Hospital Week

Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will observe National Hospital Day on Sunday, May 16, when the St. Louis Unit, Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, will have a 1:30 p.m. parade and other types of entertainment for thousands of people who will be on hand from the 22 Shrine Temples that use the 100-bed facility.

Mrs. Kay Sokolowski, administrator, said the parade, one of the shortest on record, will start at 1:45 following the flag-raising ceremony. Arral Temple of Kansas City, Mo.; Anwar Temple of Springfield, Ill.; and Anand Temple of East St. Louis will furnish the marching troops in the parade. The hospital is located at 2001 S. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis, and is the second hospital built by the Shrine.

Last year Anand Temple sent 219 youngsters from the Southern Illinois area they cover to the St. Louis orthopedic unit. These children were treated without cost to parents, state or government, and no insurance money is accepted.

The Shrine, besides operating 19 of these orthopedic hospitals, also has three Burne Centers where they handle over 90 children per day.

It took more than $30 million dollars to run the 22 hospitals. Funds are raised through a donation each year by each Shriner, plus football games, circuses, and other

Bittich infant dies at home

Andrew Bittich, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald (Laura) Bittich, 2201 S. Madison Ave., died at home at 12:40 p.m. Sunday.

A Granite City police officer was called to the Bittich home 12:15 p.m. Sunday and was informed by the father that the infant was not breathing. The officer failed to find a pulse and started to give the child mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner shortly afterward arrived at the home and pronounced the child dead.

The parents said the infant was known to have had a bronchial problem and had been seen by his pediatrician two weeks ago.

The infant was born in St. Louis.

Other than his parents, survivors include a twin brother, Lucas Bittich, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas (Carol) Cathey, and Mrs. Charlene Bittich, all of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Don't cheat your wife

Many husbands do it without trying. They work a lifetime to build an estate, but don't make plans for their estate after they're gone. So you end up leaving more to the tax man and less to your family. But some basic estate planning may change all that!

For example, you can leave nearly half your estate to your wife free of federal estate taxes — no matter how big it is. It takes experts to plan your estate. So talk to your attorney. And ask your Country Companies agent about Country Life's special estate planning services.
